ORNGE boss steps aside

Health minister orders forensic auditors to 'follow the money' at air-ambulance service

ORNGE air ambulance boss Dr. Chris Mazza was paid $1.4 million a year, making him the highest publicly paid official in Ontario, the Toronto Star reports.

That salary puts him $600,000 ahead of the highest paid hospital chief in the province and almost $65,000 ahead of the president of Ontario Power Generation.

Mazza left his post on indefinite medical leave Thursday, departing from the newly purchased office building near Pearson airport that ORNGE employees call the "Crystal Palace."

Health Minister Deb Matthews called Mazza's salary and others at the non-profit ORNGE "outrageous, shocking and unacceptable." Forensic auditors have been sent in to find out if public dollars were misspent at the agency created to help sick and injured Ontario residents.

Once, Mazza was an emergency room doctor at Sunnybrook Hospital. By 2005, he had convinced then Liberal health minister George Smitherman to turn over the air ambulance system to him as a non-profit. All provincial assets were transferred to Mazza's non-profit (eventually called ORNGE) for a nominal fee of $1.

Driver dies after being hit by flying tire

A 54-year-old woman died on the Queen Elizabeth Way in Burlington early Thursday when a tractor-trailer tire flew off a truck and crashed into her car.

The truck was southbound on the QEW near North Shore Boulevard around 6:45 a.m. when the tire came off and bounced into the Toronto-bound lanes. The tire then hit the car, which veered off the roadway before coming to rest.

The driver, Miroslawa Chimielewski, was alone in the car and died at the scene.

Contacted at their Hamilton home, Chimielewski's son said he was too distraught to speak about what happened.

The driver of the tractor-trailer did not remain on the scene, Ontario Provincial Police Const. Graham Williamson said, adding it was unclear whether the truck driver would have realized the tire had come off, or that it had hit another vehicle.

The tire was found near the crash site.

The truck was Niagara-bound, meaning it may have been headed to the U.S. border. Williamson said the missing tire would likely be noticed at a truck-inspection stop.

Rengel killer off to adult jail

Young woman has refused to take part in treatment that would identify that 'frightening element in her character' that allowed her to plot murder: Prosecutor

A judge has rejected a bid by the "puppet master" behind the murder of 14-year-old Stefanie Rengel to serve her life sentence in a youth jail for another year rather than transfer to a federal adult prison.

Referring to a "frightening" character flaw that Melissa Todorovic has not begun to address, Ontario Superior Court Justice Ian Nordheimer said Thursday "the concerns remain the same as they were two years ago."

It is in her best interests to serve her sentence among adults, he said.

In July 2009, Nordheimer gave Todorovic, then 17, an "adult sentence" for goading her boyfriend David Bagshaw into stabbing Rengel outside the victim's East York home on New Year's Day 2008.

HANDOUT/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Stefanie Rengel

He imposed a life term with seven years parole ineligibility for the girl he called the murder "puppet master."

At age 15, Todorovic was obsessively jealous of Stefanie, whom she had never met but regarded as a romantic rival. Over eight months, she waged an unrelenting campaign to pressure Bradshaw into killing the Grade 9 student.

Todorovic's lawyer, Brian Snell, argued Thursday she should remain in Roy McMurtry Youth Centre in Brampton until she turns 21 rather than transfer, as scheduled, to Grand Valley Institution for Women in Kitchener.

20 Todorovic turns 20 next month, an age when most youth inmates are transferred to a federal prison.

Remaining in the youth jail would allow her to take a biology correspondence course with Athabasca University in Alberta, Snell said.

Staff at McMurtry have made extraordinary steps to help her take the course, which requires such equipment as a laptop computer, test tubes and petri dishes, he said.

Designing 4D city puzzles

Shaun Sakdinan has come up with a new twist on the old jigsaw puzzle — a 4D version that includes the dimension of history.

The 36-year-old Markham entrepreneur, who has sold everything from flashlights to UFC action figures, was attending a toy fair in New York, when he started to think how great it would be to incorporate the city's amazing architecture into a puzzle.

That's how he came up with 4D Cityscape, which hit the market last Christmas.

The puzzle comes in layers — first the bottom geographic layer, followed by major sites and parks, and then replicas of major buildings that are to be placed according to the date they were built.

Progress after visit to elephant sanctuary

Staff at the Toronto Zoo say a trip to the California sanctuary that will become home to three of their elephants was productive and planning for the move is progressing well.

Toronto Zoo CEO John Tracogna says the visit was part of a process to ensure the elephants' move is done in a safe and humane manner.

Toronto city council voted in late October to send the African elephants south of the border to a warmer facility with more open space.

Boy with cancer gets to skate with Maple Leafs, Bieber

Eight-year-old Jake Schafer's day in Toronto began with a trip to SickKids for a round of chemotherapy, part of a routine to fight the cancer that is quickly spreading through his frail body.

Hours later, he was skating with Justin Bieber and half a dozen Maple Leafs at the Air Canada Centre, curly blonde locks poking out of his helmet as he took shots on Jonas Gustavasson.

"I was getting my equipment on and Justin Bieber came in when I was about to go out on the ice," Jake said from a hospital bed on Thursday, where he was having another round of treatment.

▶ Eight-year-old Jake Schafer, who is fighting neuroblastoma, skated with Justin Bieber and the Maple Leafs on Wednesday.

"He just asked if he could come and skate and I said yes. He got his stick and went and taped it and then he put his skates."

The outing was arranged by the Children's Wish Foundation after Jake, who was diagnosed with Stage 4 neuroblastoma last year, said his dream was to hang out with the Biebs.

Tower on horizon for Distillery?

Report on building proposal due January Height of hotel-condo combo an issue: Planner

The proposal to transform a historic six-storey Gooderham and Worts building into a boutique hotel in the Distillery District isn't what has city planners shaking their heads.

It's the 27-storey condo above it.

Designed by famed Flatiron architect David Roberts Jr. and built in 1875, the red brick building on the northeast corner of Mill and Trinity Streets is protected by a heritage designation and zoning that restricts any additions above its 16.5 metre height. The combined hotel-condo would be 34 storeys.

"There are going to be issues around the height, adding on and introducing a tall building at this location," says Gregg Lintern, director of community planning for Toronto and East York district. "When you're inside the distillery and look north, the perspective you see is a heritage district and this would be at the top."

The hotel is one of Cityscape's latest developments in the Victorian-era distillery that dates back to 1832. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Police seek man in 'vicious' kidnapping

POLICE HANDOUT

▶ Cardinell Senior

Police have put out a Canada-wide warrant for a man wanted in a vicious kidnapping for ransom earlier this month.

The victim, a man in his late 20s, was beaten and tortured for a number of hours while a $500,000 ransom was demanded, police said. The plot was foiled in a dramatic takedown the next day.

The man escaped with his life but suffered from serious head injuries when he was finally found.

"This was well organized," said Insp. Mike Earl of the organized crime unit.

The events unfolded on the late evening of Dec. 2 when the Toronto man left his home to play a pickup hockey game.

He never reached the arena. Armed men accosted him and took him to a secret location, where they demanded ransom for his safe return.

Police were called in and began directing the family in the negotiations that went into the night and early-morning hours the next day.

The kidnapping was "vicious," Earl said. "He was beaten and tortured for a number of hours." TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Spies doubt story of Kim Jong-il's death

How did the North Korean leader really die? Spy agency says events don't match the official story

South Korean spymasters, stung by being caught unaware when North Korean leader Kim Jong-il died, are challenging the official version of his death.

South Korean National Intelligence Service Director Won Sei-hoon has told the National Assembly there were no signs that Kim's special armoured train ever moved out of the station in the capital of Pyongyang, South Korean media reported.

Kim was reported by state-controlled North Korean media to have died on a train at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

The news, announced two days later, shocked South Korea and the Western world.

Sources told The Chosunilbo, an English-language newspaper in Seoul, that the details don't add up.

Temperatures early on Dec. 17 were minus 12 degrees, making it unlikely the notoriously nocturnal Kim, with a bad heart, would have been up and out on a frigid morning.

Four of the 20 carriages on Kim's train are a mobile hospital and he travels with hundreds of staff and doctors. Could that many people have kept silent for two days?

Kim had made nine public appearances in December and would have been tired. He could have died in his sleep at home in Pyongyang.

"Death on the train is possibly the best story that the North Korean regime can use to promote Kim as a hardworking leader who worked for the people until the moment he died," a South Korean official told Chosunilbo.

Not everyone was buying the idea of subterfuge.

A researcher at a South Korean think-tank said, "It's a great risk to the credibility of the regime if it's later revealed that Kim died in his bed. They would think twice about lying about it."

Where's Santa? NORAD has eyes on the skies

The volunteer Santa trackers at the North American Aerospace Defence Command are bracing for tens of thousands of calls and emails when their operations centre goes live on Christmas Eve.

The military base has been telling anxious children about Santa's whereabouts every year since 1955. That was the year a Colorado Springs newspaper ad invited kids to call Santa on a hotline, but the number had a mistake, and dozens of kids wound up talking to the Continental Aerospace Defence Command, NORAD's predecessor.

The officers on duty played along and began sharing reports on Santa's progress. It's now a tradition at NORAD, a joint U.S.-Canada command that monitors the North American skies and seas.

NORAD's Santa updates are just about everywhere — on Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, its own website and on television. And this year, there's a new Santa-tracking app for smart phones. The app was downloaded more than 234,000 times from Android Market and iTunes App Store by mid-December.

The NORAD Tracks Santa website has had more than 2.2 million unique visitors this year.

But the rows of telephones in the operations centre are still the heart of the operation. More than 1,200 volunteers answer calls in shifts, checking computer monitors for Santa's location.

Bombers strike Baghdad

Tensions rise in Iraq as attacks threaten stability in war-torn country mere days after U.S. forces leave ◗ Blasts hit 11 neighbourhoods, kill dozens

KARIM KADIM/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

▶ Iraqi security forces and civilians gather at the scene of a car bomb attack in Baghdad on Thursday.

A wave of 16 bombings ripped across Baghdad Thursday, killing at least 69 people in the worst violence in Iraq for months. The apparently co-ordinated attacks struck days after the last American forces left the country and in the midst of a major government crisis between Shiite and Sunni politicians that has sent sectarian tensions soaring.

The bombings may be linked more to the U.S. withdrawal than the political crisis, but all together, the developments heighten fears of a new round of Shiite-Sunni sectarian bloodshed like the one a few years back that pushed Iraq to the brink of civil war.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility. But the bombings bore all the hallmarks of al-Qaida's Sunni insurgents. Most appeared to hit Shiite neighbourhoods, although some Sunni areas were also targeted.

In all, 11 neighbourhoods were hit by either car bombs, roadside blasts or sticky bombs attached to cars. There was at least one suicide bombing and the blasts went off over several hours.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deadly attack

- The deadliest attack was in the Karrada neighbourhood, where a suicide bomber blew himself up outside the office of a government agency.
- At least 14 blasts went off in the morning and two more in the evening.
- Two police officers at the scene said the bomber was driving an ambulance and told guards that he needed to get to a nearby hospital. After the guards let him through, he drove to the building where he blew himself up, the officers said.

France's genocide bill upsets Turkey

French lawmakers easily passed a measure Thursday to make it a crime to deny that the mass killings of Armenians in 1915 by Ottoman Turks amounted to genocide. Turkey swiftly retaliated, ordering its ambassador home and halting official contacts, including some military co-operation.

Within hours of the vote on the bill, which would penalize those who deny the genocide, Turkey suspended joint military manoeuvres and began restricting French military flights. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Friend or foe?

- Turkey, a NATO member, is a strategic ally of France and valued trading partner, and the moves diminish ties at a particularly crucial time. Paris and Ankara are both deeply involved in international issues from the uprising in Syria to Afghanistan.

Israel drops Gaza flotilla charges

Israel's attorney general has decided not to prosecute Israelis who participated in a Gaza-bound flotilla that was raided a year ago.

The suspects included an Israeli-Arab lawmaker and an Islamist leader.

Wish comes true for girl who met Kate

Dad says 6-year-old's cancer has gone into remission

NATHAN DENTTE/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ The Duchess of Cambridge hugs six-year-old Diamond Marshall as the royal couple arrives in Calgary on July 7.

The shy, bald little girl who charmed Prince William and Kate when they visited Calgary in the summer has received her Christmas wish.

Diamond Marshall's father says she had surgery this week and the biopsies have shown her cancer is in remission, though she still must undergo chemotherapy and a bone-marrow transplant next month.

Diamond's brief meeting with the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge on a windy July day brought many Canadians to tears.

The six year old, who is battling Stage 4 undifferentiated sarcoma, had asked the Children's Wish Foundation for a chance to meet "a real princess."

She not only got to meet Kate, she managed to get in a hug with her idol and present her with flowers.

Lyall Marshall, Diamond's father, says he believes the brief encounter with the royal couple helped his little girl fight the disease.

"That hug had a lot of meaning, we're very thankful for that meet and greet for her and the whole community rallying behind her," said Marshall. "From a father's point of view when you can say the whole world is rooting for you to get better, I mean, that's a lot."

Diamond will spend Christmas in hospital recovering from the surgery, but her dad says they're all OK with that as long as they're together. If all goes well, Diamond will be home for New Year's Eve.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

"This is a wonderful piece of news, especially at this time of year and we will be thinking of Diamond in the coming year."

Trouble over 'boobie' bracelet

Controversy is stirring at a Catholic school in Woodstock, Ont., over bracelets supporting breast-cancer awareness.

The bracelets read "I Love Boobies" and a 13-year-old student at St. Rita's Catholic School has been put on in-school suspension over them.

Kelly Millson has been urged by his parents to continue wearing them at school, but he says he is not allowed to be in class, in the hallways or anywhere other students are congregating.

But he did decide to take the bracelets off this week so he could go out for recess. School board superintendent Tamara Nugent says the decisions on dress code are made by each school's principal.

The Internet throws its weight around

Scientist putting Internet electrons on the scale

If you could set all the electrons in the Internet on scales, would they weigh the same as a California strawberry?

American scientist Russell Seitz decided recently one day that the Internet weighs 50 grams. That's 2 ounces, or one large strawberry, for the metrically challenged.

The folks at YouTube channel VSauce included this tidbit in a video, How Much Does the Internet Weigh? that had been watched nearly 1 million times by Thursday morning.

The VSauce video shows that Seitz's calculations are inaccurate, and attempts to put all the electrons in the right order.

The video relies on numbers provided by Google executive chairman Eric Schmidt, who estimated that the Internet contains about 5 million terabytes of information (of which Google has indexed only 0.004 per cent).

One email contains 50 kilobytes of information, carried on the collective backs of 8 billion electrons.

Find a piece of paper wide enough for the dozens of zeros on either side of the decimal point, and, in the final tally, 5 million terabytes translates into 0.2 millionths of an ounce.

"That's less than the tiniest grain of sand," says the video. (That's the sand you forgot to wash off the strawberry.)

U.K. bookstore faces heat for Hitler manifesto display

Indigo/Chapters' head banned sale of book 10 years ago Mein Kampf sold at small book stores in Canada

A British bookstore chain has apologized after promoting Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf as the "perfect present" for Christmas.

Waterstone's issued an apology after several people spotted the anti-Semitic tome at a store in Huddersfield in West Yorkshire with a sales sticker saying the book is an "essential gift for anyone seeking to understand one of history's most despicable figures. A shocking read and vital warning for future generations."

The online version of U.K.'s Jewish Chronicle newspaper reports seeing copies of the book displayed in Manchester, Cheshire and Liverpool.

A Waterstone's spokesperson told the Chronicle that the bookstore chain doesn't actively promote the book and its customers "are capable of forming their own opinions on whether to purchase it or not."

"We have instructed stores accordingly, and apologize for the offence caused."

A Virgin Megastore in Qatar came under fire earlier this month after promoting Hitler's manifesto. American Charles Gandelman snapped a photo of the display, which "recommended" an Arabic translation of the book.

A Virgin spokesperson said in a statement "the recommended tag was not an endorsement of the book's author or its content.

Heroin was headed for Toronto

Seizure of major drug shipment found in marine container in Halifax in May was announced Thursday

JENNIFER TAPLIN

METRO CANADA IN HALIFAX

RYAN TAPLIN/METRO HALIFAX

▶ Dominic Mallette from the Canada Border Services Agency answers questions from reporters at the CBSA's Halifax office on Thursday.

Two million dollars worth of heroin was discovered in a cargo container in Halifax, bound for Toronto.

Border services agents made the discovery on May 16 but could not release the details publicly until now because of an RCMP investigation.

Dominic Mallette with the Canada Border Services Agency told reporters Thursday the shipment came from India and was destined for Toronto.

It was flagged because of its origin and the container was X-rayed.

"We examined the entire container in which there were 772 cardboard boxes in which there were various food products," he said.

Two of the boxes had 19 bags of heroin inside bags of flour balls — something the X-ray could pick up because of the consistency difference. That's five kilograms of heroin worth about $2 million on the street.

"This was a targeted container from our targeting unit here in Halifax," he said. "We look at different things such as country of origin, the routing where it stopped on the way as well as whether it was a first-time importer."

The drugs were turned over to local RCMP who turned it over to Toronto RCMP.

Sgt. Richard Rollings, spokesman for Toronto RCMP, said the investigation was placed in its jurisdiction because that's where the drugs were bound. No charges have been laid but the investigation is continuing.

Rollings couldn't say, because of the ongoing investigation, if the container was sent onto Toronto for a "controlled delivery" to see who would pick it up.

Snowbound 10 days with two candy bars

Woman's survival remarkable given lack of food and temperatures that dipped below freezing, authorities say

SCREEN GRAB

▶ Lauren Weinberg

A U.S. university student said she had nothing to eat but two candy bars while her car was stuck in the snow for 10 days in a remote area of Arizona. In neighbouring New Mexico, a family found themselves struggling to breathe after nearly two days in their SUV, which was buried in a snowdrift on a rural highway.

The frigid ordeals ended with separate rescues Wednesday. Authorities said all were recovering after being taken to hospitals.

The 23-year-old Lauren Weinberg was seen leaving her mother's home Dec. 11. Coconino County sheriff's spokesman Gerry Blair said she was driving around with no specific destination when she came to a dirt road near a line of cliffs that divides the state's high country from the desert. Her car became stuck after she stopped to try to open a gate.

Weinberg told a sheriff's deputy she put snow in a water bottle and placed it on the car so it would melt, Blair said. She did not have a heavy coat or blankets. She had a cellphone but the battery was dead.

Two U.S. Forest Service employees on snowmobiles found her nine days later while they were checking if gates on forest roads were closed.

"I am so thankful to be alive and warm," Weinberg said through a spokeswoman at the Flagstaff Medical Center. "Thank you everyone for your thoughts and prayers, because they worked. There were times I was afraid but mostly I had faith I would be found."

Other than being cold, hungry and thirsty, Weinberg was in good condition, lucid and speaking coherently, Blair said.

Jewelry for kids recalled

Health Canada is recalling more children's jewelry products after a sampling program turned up excessive lead in the products.

One recall involves metallic heart-shaped pendants and plastic bracelets imported from China and sold by Toy Land Co. of Vancouver. The other involves a Writer's Block necklace with love, peace and globe charms made by Jude M Designs of India and sold in Canada by Liquidation World Inc. of Brantford, Ont.

400 More than 400 of the Toy Land pendants and 2,050 of the bracelets were sold in Canada from 2006 to 2011.

Consumers should immediately take any recalled jewelry products away from children and dispose of them after contacting their municipality.

Flaherty backs off

Says legislation 'cannot proceed' after Supreme Court ruled creating national watchdog unconstitutional

Finance Minister Jim Flaherty says the Supreme Court of Canada's views have effectively killed his project to create a single securities regulator.

He said Ottawa will respect the Supreme's Court's opinion.

Earlier Thursday, the Supreme Court said federal legislation calling for a securities regulator goes beyond matters of national concern. Administration of stocks and bonds operations has always fallen under provincial jurisdiction, the court notes.

But the court left Flaherty with the option of revising his scheme to create a single regulator for the whole country with the involvement of provincial governments.

This leaves open the possibility that the federal government could recraft its plan to obtain greater support from the provinces.

Wary investors head for exits

Asian stock markets fell Thursday, ending a two-day rally after investors were rattled by the European Central Bank's huge loan to bolster the continent's banks. The declines came after Asian stocks plunged early this week on anxiety over the death of Kim Jong-il, then rallied on positive U.S. construction data and a strong Spanish government debt auction.

Some Europe travellers likely won't be home for Christmas

Holiday strikes are promising days of headaches for Christmas travellers around Europe.

Workers were walking off the job to show their ire at budget-slashing measures by their governments to tackle debt and high deficits.

In Belgium, Eurostar and Thalys idled their service through Brussels as transport workers walked off the job. In France, a strike by airport security personnel stretched into its seventh day, and in London, public transport workers plan to strike on Boxing Day in a dispute over holiday pay.

In Greece, train workers planned a five-hour work stoppage Thursday; in Spain, Iberia pilots plan to strike on Dec. 29 over the state company's decision to launch a low-cost airline while the union has called for strikes at the public rail company Renfe for Christmas and New Year's.

In Portugal, train engineers are due to strike from Friday until Christmas Day, protesting disciplinary measures imposed on them.

PIPPA AND PERILS OF 2011

NEIL MORTON
METRO

1 Royal wedding: Two billion people watched Will and Kate tie the knot — and Pippa Middleton's derriere become world famous.

2 Steve Jobs: The visionary Apple co-founder died at age 56, having led a dramatic cultural and technological transformation.

3 Lindsay Lohan: Lohan salvaged a terrible year with the law — and her career — by appearing on Playboy's bestselling cover (which also made Playboy relevant again).

4 Lady Gaga: She arrived at the Grammys being carried in a huge egg. Which is what you do when you're trying really hard to be cool.

5 Ashton Kutcher & Demi Moore: They break up — and in keeping with relationship etiquette in the Social Media Age, unfollow each other on Twitter.

6 Kim Kardashian: The woman famous for no reason has a marriage that only lasts 72 days for some reason. Oh yeah — it was her naked yoga instructor.

7 Weinergate: Congressman Anthony Weiner tweets a photo of his penis by mistake, resulting in countless "wiener" jokes, a scandal — and, naturally, his resignation.

8 Margaret Atwood: A public feud between Atwood and Toronto city councillor Doug Ford (Mayor Rob's older bro) leads to a cheeky "Atwood for Mayor" campaign.

9 Amy Winehouse: Joins the "27 club," a group of seminal musicians like Kurt Cobain, Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix and Jim Morrison who died at age 27.

10 Martha Stewart: Martha Stewart tweets, "Do you think I am hip?" That's one of the tweets of the year.

11 Kate Gosselin: Her reality show is cancelled, and her kids now live in peace. As one blog noted, "(The kids) know not the craven greed machine they were plugged into."

12 Tim Tebow: The devout Christian NFL QB with an unorthodox throwing style who people keep saying will fail just keeps winning. And Tebowmania and "Tebowing" goes viral.

13 Charlie Sheen: After getting fired from Two and a Half Men, the troubled Sheen launches a bizarre Violent Torpedo Of Truth tour. Thankfully, he's off whatever Kool-Aid he was on.

14 @bronxzoocobra: A cobra escapes a zoo and someone creates a hilarious Twitter account that goes viral, tweeting its time on the run. (Other awesome Twitter accounts like @S–tGirlsSay also go viral this year.)

15 Piers Morgan: Morgan replaces the legendary Larry King on CNN but has the makings of a legend himself with his intelligent hardball-with-a-cheeky-grin Q & A style.

16 Kissing Couple: During the riots in Vancouver, post-NHL final, an image of a couple lying on a tear-gas-filled street having a tender kiss with riot police around gets circulated throughout the world — becoming one of 2011's iconic images.

Goalie and 'fan' clash on pitch

AMSTERDAM. Film buffs will say he took those moves straight out of 2001 martial-arts/sports movie mashup Shaolin Soccer. TIMELINE. The drunk Ajax "fan," 19, invaded the pitch and launched a flying kick towards the Costa Rican goalkeeper. Alvarado lashed out a series of his own kicks before security dragged the supporter away. After the goalie was given a red card for misconduct, Alkmaar's angry coach Gertjan Verbeek ordered his team to leave the pitch. METRO WORLD NEWS

Keeping a tab on technology

Flat, hard packages will be welcome this year. Tablet computers are extremely popular, and electronic reading devices such as the Kindle have matured and come down in price.

Which one to get? That's mostly a matter of your budget. The iPad and other full-blown tablets are more expensive, but they do virtually everything better. Consider pooling money from friends or family for a better device.

If you have more than $300 to spend, go for one of these full-size tablets. They have colour screens that are about nine inches diagonally, and they have built-in cameras.

Apple 16GB iPad 2 ($498.99 at Future Shop)

The device that made tablet computing mainstream still reigns, outselling all others combined. It's thinner than competing tablets and has access to an unparalleled array of applications: Half a million, of which 140,000 are adapted for the iPad's 9.7-inch screen. That means more good games, more useful reference apps and more entertainment options. The range of third-party book apps also means the iPad beats dedicated e-readers at their own game by giving users the ability to read books purchased from any store. The large screen displays documents comfortably.

❄ The Apple iPad 2.

Sony S1 16GB Tablet ($399.99 at Best Buy)

There are a slew of tablets from Samsung, Sony, LG and other manufacturers built around Google Inc.'s Android software. From a hardware standpoint, they are not much different from the iPad, though most of them are thicker, and they are available in a range of sizes.

The Tablet S stands out by including an infrared emitter, which makes it usable as a large universal remote control. It also plays some PlayStation games. It has a 9.4-inch screen, slightly smaller than the iPad's. It runs the latest version of Android, which is specially designed for tablets and is slick.

ASUS 10.1" Eee Pad Transformer, 16GB ($346 at Wal-Mart)

The Transformer is a reasonably priced Android tablet that doubles as a "netbook," or small laptop, if you buy an accessory keyboard dock for $109. You can get an accessory keyboard for any tablet, but the Transformer's attaches securely, and the combination folds up like a laptop. The keyboard has a touchpad, extra ports and an additional power pack, which prolongs battery life.

For those willing to travel

If you only want to spend $200 US to $250 US, go for one of these e-reader/tablet hybrids, which aren't yet available in Canada. They add movies, games and other applications to the e-reader's capabilities, so they are not just for bookworms.

Amazon Kindle Fire ($199 US)

The Fire is Amazon's first colour Kindle. It runs a highly modified, user-friendly version of Android. The selection of apps is smaller than for other Android tablets, however. Notable inclusions are Netflix, Hulu and Comixology, a comic-book reader.

Barnes & Noble Nook Tablet ($249 US)

The bookstore's answer to the Kindle Fire is an updated version of last year's Nook Color, a solid and successful e-reader. The Tablet has more memory than the Color or the Kindle Fire, and you can add even more.

AMAZON.COM/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FILE

❄ The Amazon Kindle Touch 3G.

If your budget is limited to $150, you will be tempted by some low-end colour tablets. But giving one away is like giving away a lump of coal: The colour touch screens that go into sub-$200 devices look bad and have problems responding to fingers.

Instead, get one of these lightweight, quality e-readers with black-and-white "electronic ink" screens for the bookworm in your life.

CHIANG YING-YING/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FILE

❄ The Asus Eee Pad Transformer.

Amazon Kindle Touch 3G ($149 US)

Amazon still has a variety of monochrome Kindles, including its first touch-screen model. The screen is more legible than colour screens in bright daylight and uses very little power. But it's slow to respond, making navigation tedious. The lack of colour takes the joy out of children's books, magazines and comics. The device's touch sensitivity does make navigation easier.

Barnes & Noble Nook Simple Touch ($99 US)

This slim, light e-reader is very similar to the $99 non-3G Kindle Touch. Barnes & Noble's version has two advantages: It doesn't display advertising, and it can load books from other bookstores, including Google Books. It can't load Kindle books, though.

Seasonal Cheer

Your wine and spirits guide

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

Buying a bottle of booze as a gift is easy, right?

Buying the right bottle; now there's the challenge. Whether you have a wine, beer or spirit lover on your list one of these liquid gems is guaranteed to please.

White Owl Whisky ($34.95-$39.99)
Sure, while Canadian spirits are usually brown, this unique blend of aged whiskies is filtered clear without losing any of its rich, rounded flavours.

St-Germain Liqueur ($44.42-$59.99)
This wine lover's liqueur is made with French hand-picked elderflower blossoms. Soft and refreshing, it's a perfect ingredient for champagne cocktails on Christmas morning.

Masi 2007 Costasera Amarone Classico ($38.95-$49.99)
Is there a red wine that appeals to every palate? I say it's Amarone. Made with dried grapes it's the ideal conversation vino that speaks volumes all by itself.

Crystal Head Vodka ($44.98-$59.95)
OK, a skull-shaped bottle may not scream happy holidays, but this diamond-filtered neutral spirit — designed by Ghostbuster Dan Aykroyd — will add some seasonal magic to any vodka cocktail.

Veuve Clicquot Brut Champagne Ice Jacket ($65.15-$69)
Veuve's non-vintage yellow-labelled bubbly is a standard. Add a neoprene slip cover that will keep the passion juice cold for up to two hours and you are talking perfection.

St-Rémy à la Crème Liqueur ($24.85-$28.98)
Cream liqueurs are a holiday essential and this one — made with a base of St-Rémy brandy — has a sexy creaminess that marries perfectly with its smooth alcohol base.

Skate Whisky ($49.98-$49.99)
You will score with any Canadian whisky loving hockey fan gifting this spirit that's smooth and subtle on the inside and classically kitschy (in a good way) on the outside.

Wychwood Bah Humbug Christmas Ale ($3.50-$5.29)
Ebenezer Scrooge's sour puss may be on the label, but this malty English ale will have the beer fans carolling.

The Kraken Black Spiced Rum ($26.99-$34.99)
Eggnog, meet your match. Dark, black and spicy, The Kraken unleashes major flavours that are exceptionally mixable and darn tasty on their own, too.

GAY LEA PHOTO

'Hot' Chocolate Shortbread

Ingredients:

- 1 cup (250 ml) Gay Lea Butter (Unsalted), softened
- 2 tsp (10 ml) vanilla
- 2 cups (500 ml) all-purpose flour
- ¾ cup (175 ml) instant dissolving sugar
- ½ cup (125 ml) unsweetened cocoa powder, sifted
- 1 tsp (5 ml) each salt and ground cinnamon
- ¼ tsp (1 ml) cayenne pepper
- melted white and dark chocolate

Preparation:

1 In a large bowl, beat the butter and vanilla until fluffy. In a separate bowl, whisk the flour with the sugar, cocoa, salt, cinnamon and cayenne pepper; beat into the butter mixture on low just until uniformly combined. Form the dough into a flat disc; wrap and chill for 1 hour or until firm enough to roll easily.

2 Preheat the oven to 350 F (180 C). Line baking sheets with parchment paper.

3 Roll the dough out between sheets of parchment paper to ¼-inch (5 mm) thick. Cut out shapes using 2-inch (5 cm) cookie cutters. Place the cookies, 1 inch (2.5 cm) apart, on baking sheets. Re-roll scraps and cut out additional cookies once. Bake, in batches, for 8 to 10 minutes or until set. Cool completely on a rack. Drizzle cooled cookies with melted white and dark chocolate for an attractive garnish. Let stand until completely set before packing. Makes about 3 dozen cookies

HELPFUL HINT: The heat in these cookies is subtle, so for those who want more intensity, increase cayenne pepper to ½ tsp (2 ml).

Candy Cane Chocolate Whoopie Pies

Ingredients:

- 1 cup (250 ml) Compliments all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup (60 ml) Compliments cocoa
- 1 tsp (5 ml) baking soda
- ½ tsp (2 ml) salt
- ¾ cup + 2 tbsp (175 ml) milk, divided
- 1 tsp (5 ml) Sensations by Compliments Pure Vanilla Extract
- ¾ cup (175 ml) unsalted butter, room temperature, divided
- ½ cup (125 ml) brown sugar
- 1 egg
- ¼ tsp (1 ml) pure mint extract
- 2 cups (500 ml) icing sugar
- ¾ cup (175 ml) crushed or chopped Compliments Candy Canes (approx. 12 large), divided

Preparation:

1 Preheat oven to 350 F (180 C). In a bowl, sift together flour, cocoa, baking soda and salt. Set aside. In a measuring cup, stir together ¾ cup (175 ml) milk and vanilla. Set aside.

2 Using an electric mixer (stand or hand-held), cream together ¼ cup (60 ml) butter and the brown sugar until pale and fluffy, 3 to 5 min., then add egg. Reduce speed to low and alternately add portions of the dry ingredients and milk mixture, occasionally scraping down sides of bowl, finishing with dry ingredients. Beat just until a smooth batter forms.

3 Using a tablespoon, portion out level spoonfuls of batter and place mounds, spaced about 1½ inch (4 cm) apart, on 2 parchment paper-lined baking sheets. Bake for 11 min., rotating baking sheets halfway through. Transfer pies to a wire rack and cool completely.

4 Meanwhile, make the filling. Using the mixer, whip remaining butter until fluffy, then add mint extract and remaining milk. With the mixer on low, gradually add icing sugar, occasionally scraping down sides of bowl. Beat until fluffy, about 4 min. Cover and set aside.

5 Fold ¼ cup (60 ml) crushed candy canes into the filling. Sandwich level tablespoons of filling between 2 pies, spreading to the edges. At this point, they can be refrigerated overnight in a parchment paper-lined airtight container, with parchment between pies if they are stacked. Just before serving, dab filling edges into remaining candy cane and lightly pat pieces into place. Transfer to a platter and serve immediately. Makes 20 pies.

Alternate filling: Add 1 tsp (5 ml) rum extract instead of mint extract to the filling and roll edges in ½ cup (125 ml) toasted shredded coconut instead of candy cane.

- 3 russet potatoes, scrubbed
- 8 tbsp (120 ml) Skillet Bacon Jam
- 2 tbsp (30 ml) butter, melted
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ¾ cup (177 ml) cheddar cheese
- 1 cup (240 ml) sliced onions

- 2 tbsp (30 ml) chopped Italian parsley, for garnish

Preparation:

1 Preheat oven to 350 F (176 C). Bake potatoes on middle rack until fork tender, about 1 hour. Remove from oven and let sit until cool enough to handle.

6 Assembly: Spread 1 tbsp of bacon jam in each potato skin, top with cheddar cheese and put under broiler until bubbly and golden brown. Drizzle with sour cream and top with crispy onions and the parsley. Serves 4.

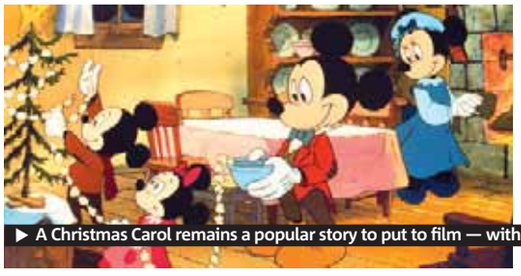
Synopsis

Since first being published in December 1843 Charles Dickens's story of Ebenezer Scrooge's emotional transformation from hoarder to Ho Ho-er has been presented in many forms. A Christmas Carol has been adapted into opera, ballet, a Broadway musical and even a mime show starring Marcel Marceau. On film there have been at least 28 versions of the story and dozens more for television. This week the Reel Guys have a look at the best big screen versions of the classic story.

ALL PHOTOS: HANDOUT



▶ A Christmas Carol remains a popular story to put to film — with at least 28 versions out there.

Bah, humbug!

Sim, Murray and Carrey have all played the miser who finds redemption
Crouse and Breslin debate the best movie version of A Christmas Carol

Reel Guys
RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Richard: Mark, there is only one must-see out of all the dozens of film and TV versions of the Charles Dickens classic and that's the 1951 Alastair Sim version. Nearly perfect in every way, it is a tale of redemption that confirms the fundamental spiritual nature of Christmas itself. In other words, it makes us feel good. Accept no substitutes. If, however, you've already seen it this year or you're allergic to black and white movies, there are alternatives.

MB: Richard, you are so right. The movie HAS to be in black and white to make us feel the spirit of Dickensian deprivation. It's the classic. But growing up in a Jewish household, it didn't have any importance to me as a child. I discovered it much later, and was transfixed by its narrative power and perfectly gloomy mood. May I contrast this with the Jim Carrey version? Now that's a movie with no sense of mystery, and a buffoonish interpretation of the lead character. I feel sorry for children who grow up with this bloated, CGI-laden excuse for a classic. Richard, please don't tell me you like it!

RC: Before I saw the Jim Carrey version of A Christmas Carol I wondered why remake a story that has been done so often and so well in the past. I've seen it and I'm still wondering. The weirdly lifeless animation was creepy, akin to a Christmas story performed by zombies.

MB: Let me praise Bill Murray's version Scrooged. It's far from authentic, light years away from Dickens, but it makes its points in a very modern way. Bill Murray is great in it, and the writing is sharp and satirical. Setting it in the milieu of the television industry obviously changes the mood of the original, but as long as you see the movie as an interesting and successful riff upon the original story, and not as a substitute for it, it's a great movie for the season.

RC: I agree. It's become a must see for me every year. Although I don't have to see The Muppets Christmas Carol every year, it is a treat to see Michael Caine as Scrooge. I also like the musical Scrooge with Albert Finney in the lead.

MB: I've never seen it! I sure hope they gave Tiny Tim a tap solo.

2 scene

Scene in brief

If you're experiencing a joy overload on Christmas Day, revel in some apocalyptic fare at the movie theatre. The Darkest Hour opens Dec. 25. The film follows five people in Moscow fighting an alien race who have attacked Earth via our power supply.
METRO

00-who? Daniel Craig excels away from Bond, adds second franchise with Dragon Tattoo

Top 5 actors to watch next year...

DOUGLAS BOOTH

Could the role of Romeo in the latest Romeo and Juliet turn Booth into another Leonardo DiCaprio? With a second starring role alongside Disney princess-turned-stoner Miley Cyrus in LOL..., well, look at the kid's hair. It's a little like Leo.

MICHAEL FASSBENDER

We're not going to hide our partiality to this Irish-German export, 34, who was ubiquitous in 2011 with an impressive four releases, including X-Men: First Class and Jane Eyre. His upcoming spy flick with director Steven Soderbergh, Haywire (Jan. 20), combined with all the awards-season buzz he's been getting for his performance in 2011's Shame will propel Fassbender to A-List by the time his sci-fi film Prometheus, a semi-prequel to Alien, is released in the summer (June 8).

CHRIS DIAMANTOPOULOS

We finally learned how to spell Galifianakis, so it's about time another comedic actor with an impossibly lengthy Greek last name take the scene by storm. Audiences first got to meet D-what's-his-face on the American sitcom Up All Night but the Greco-Canadian actor will get even more exposure this spring (April 13) with the release of The Three Stooges, in which he plays Moe, the only Stooge with a passable haircut.

TAYLOR KITSCH

The Friday Night Lights star appears in two huge movies this summer: the sci-fi epic John Carter, set on Mars, and Battleship, a sci-fi version of the popular board game. Finally, he'll be known for something more than his abs.

JOSH HUTCHERSON

This 19-year-old actor has been working steadily in Hollywood, but it'll be the March 23 release of the highly anticipated film adaptation of The Hunger Games that makes him a star. While we can't promise he'll be the next Robert Pattinson — sorry, RPatz will always have a special vampire lair in our hearts — the series' rabid fanbase will give Hutcherson a fast pass to megastardom. Especially because it's a romantic lead. (For younger kids, he's also in 2012's Journey 2: The Mysterious Island.)

Top 5 ladies to look out for

1 GINA CARANO

How does a mixed martial-artist end up as the lead in a Steven Soderbergh indie spy thriller? And with a supporting cast that includes acting heavyweights Ewan McGregor, Michael Fassbender and Michael Douglas? She kicks ass, obviously.

Did you know?

- "It's so satisfying watching her beat the (expletive) out of the cast," Soderbergh told The Playlist blog about Carano.
- He caught her on TV one night and thought, Why has no one made a movie with her?

2 ELIZABETH OLSEN

The Olsen Twins' younger sister got a major headstart in 2011 with her impressive performance in indie cult film Martha Marcy May Marlene and this thoughtful, wide-eyed actress will continue the momentum with Liberal Arts, written and directed by How I Met Your Mother star Josh Radnor. She'll also appear in the horror flick Silent House (March 9) and paranormal thriller Red Lights alongside Robert De Niro and Cillian Murphy.

3 LILY COLLINS

The spawn of Sussudio impresario Phil Collins already had her coming out party in 2011 with roles in Abduction and Priest. This year the 22-year-old has a starring role in Tarsem Singh's lighthearted take on the Snow White fairytale in Mirror Mirror (March 16th) co-starring Julia Roberts, along with prominent roles in The English Teacher co-starring Julianne Moore and sci-fi film The Mortal Instrument.

4 ANDREA RISEBOROUGH

Thank the Material Girl herself, Madonna, for bringing this English Rose to the forefront in 2012. Riseborough will start off the year with her lauded performance in Madge-directed feature W.E. (Feb. 3) as controversial paramour to King Edward the 8th, Wallis Simpson. She'll stay at the forefront with IRA thriller Shadow Dancer, as well as Disconnect, co-starring True Blood babe Alexander Skarsgard and Jason Bateman — finishing it off with English crime thriller Welcome to the Punch.

5 TAYLOR SCHILLING

Oh, to star in a Nicholas Sparks book adaptation. Though she may've been the lead in failed TV show Mercy and dead-on-arrival Atlas Shrugged: Part One as lead character Dagny Taggart, somebody in Hollywood has some faith in this American 27-year-old. She's been cast opposite Zac Efron in The Lucky One (April 20), a romance about an Iraq war veteran who goes in search of the woman whose photo became his good luck charm while fighting in the war. Schilling will also star in Ben Affleck-directed political thriller Argo in 2012.

Top 10 TIFF films of 2011

Find out who made the list for the top movies of 2011 from TIFF
Did your favourite make the list?

Now that Santa's naughty and nice list has been put away for another year, it's time to have a look at another list, Canada's Top 10, the Toronto International Film Festival's annual tally of the best Canadian features. In alphabetical order, here are the winners as chosen by a panel of industry experts.

Café de flore
The main pleasure in this story about the uncompromising power of true love is watching Vanessa Paradis throw glamour out the window and deliver a gritty, but lovingly rendered performance as a protective mother.

A Dangerous Method
Here two pioneering psychoanalysts, played by Michael Fassbender and Viggo Mortensen, have a falling out over an intelligent, beautiful but troubled patient (Keira Knightley). The movie is an enticing stew of psychosexuality and repression that challenges commonly held beliefs about what is normal and what is not.

Edwin Boyd
The story of Canada's John Dillinger is an entertaining romp through three decades in the life of a notorious homegrown folk hero.

Hobo With a Shotgun
This is like what would have happened if Roger Corman made Death Wish with a fake blood budget the size of a James Cameron movie.

HANDOUT

▶ Monsieur Lazhar makes the list of TIFF favourites from 2011.

Keyhole
Guy Maddin's homage to 1930's gangster melodramas is exactly what we expect from the eccentric director. It's an expressionistic, beautifully grotesque story that demands multiple viewings.

Marécages
This lush looking story of the hardships of rural life and keeping a family together is slow moving but rewarding.

Monsieur Lazhar
Canada's official entry to the Oscar race, this schoolroom drama — think To Sir with Love, with a suicide subplot — is one of the best films of the year, Canadian or otherwise.

Starbuck
A charming movie about a man — winningly played by Patrick Huard —who discovers his sperm bank donations unwittingly made him the father of 533 children, 142 of whom have filed a class action lawsuit to learn their biological father's real identity.

Take This Waltz
This second feature from director Sarah Polley is a bittersweet Canadian kitchen sink drama about being trapped in a marriage with someone who can't speak his mind.

Le Vendeur
This looks at what happens to life in a small town when the largest employer is about to shut down. It is a Main Street drama seen through the eyes of a kindly car salesman.

We Bought a Zoo
Genre: Comedy
Director: Cameron Crowe
Stars: Matt Damon, Scarlett Johansson, Thomas Haden Church
●●●

Cameron Crowe might not seem on surface the first choice for a family friendly comedy, but a closer look at his work — from Almost Famous to Jerry Maguire — proves otherwise. Crowe's pictures almost always deal with family situations, mostly unorthodox, but always gripped by truth and sentimentality. His adaptation of the bestselling book, We Bought a Zoo, is really just another Crowe joint: melancholy yet joyous, optimistic and truthful. Matt Damon is in fine form as the still-aching widow who moves his two children to a dilapidated country zoo and he's matched by Scarlett Johansen as a feisty zookeeper. Kids will love it too (if my 5-year-old son Jack's engagement is any indication), not just for the plethora of funny animals, but because of the simple, warm dramatic plotting, gentle laughs and general upbeat vibe. Though less liberal parents should be warned that a few choice PG-pushing expletives do rear their heads from time to time.

● CHRIS ALEXANDER

Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close
Genre: Drama
Director: Stephen Daldry
Stars: Thomas Horn, Tom Hanks, Sandra Bullock
●●● ½

Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close explores the horror of 9-11 through the eyes of a gifted 10-year-old named Oskar (Thomas Horn) whose father (Tom Hanks) was killed in the attack. This is a 9-11 movie that isn't about ideology but the human cost of ideology. Oskar's search isn't for answers as to why 9-11 happened, but rather to keep a connection to his father alive. Good performances all round, Sandra Bullock and Max Von Sydow are standouts, but Horn does much of the work, his doe eyes conveying the pain, hurt and confusion that comes along with great loss. It's a bit over long, with a drawn out ending, but a few moments guaranteed to trigger the water works.

● RICHARD CROUSE

War Horse
Genre: Drama
Director: Steven Spielberg
Stars: Jeremy Irvine, Emily Watson

A book-turned-play-turned Steven Spielberg epic, War Horse is a manipulated but multilayered telling of the First World War through the eyes of a tempestuous thoroughbred.

Combining several characters from both sides of the battle, Spielberg overextends his focus on sentimentality but as he's proved in Saving Private Ryan, nobody crafts cinematic combat scenes better and the auteur succeeds most notably with a stunningly filmed cavalry charge that outlines the harrowing carnage of war.

● STEVE GOW

Carnage
Genre: Comedy
Director: Roman Polanski
Stars: Jodie Foster, Kate Winslet, Christoph Waltz
●●●●½

The aptly named Carnage is Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf for our allegedly enlightened times, with all the discomfort and none of the sex. Penelope and Michael Longstreet invite Nancy and Alan Cowan to their Manhattan apartment to discuss a schoolyard incident between their sons which left one "disfigured." The veneer of good manners and co-operation flames out, devolving into screaming, insulting, vomiting, hitting, drunkenness and an inability to leave the premises. Claustrophobic, intense, panic-inducing and hilarious, Polanski has a winner. ● ANNE BRODIE

Pina
Genre: Documentary
Director: Wim Wenders
Stars: Pina Bausch, Regina Advento, Mailu Airaudo
●●●●

Pina is a rare film that actually benefits from the 3D format. Director Wim Wenders examination of German choreographer Pina Bausch, who died during pre-production, is a character study masquerading as a ballet. Mixing archival footage with beautiful scenes of her Tanztheater Wuppertal ensemble performing her creations (both onstage and in the outdoors), Wenders uses dance to capture his subject's spirit. Dance enthusiasts will marvel at this film; there's more than just elaborate body movement on display.

WHAT TO BUY WITH THE CHRISTMAS MONEY

SOUND CHECK

ALAN CROSS
SCENE
@METRONEWS.CA

With two days to go, what do you get the music fan on your list?

Let's assume for a second that there will be some envelopes under the tree Christmas morning. You could do the responsible thing and apply whatever cash you get to the post-Christmas debts — remember that CPP takes its annual chunk out of your paycheque as of January 1! — or use it for an RRSP contribution.

But let's be honest: you're going to do neither. Instead, you'll contribute to the retail economy by recycling that cash on things that…well, things that you think you need but really don't. In fact, no one actually needs any of these things.

The Drum Machine T-Shirt ($30)

You might have heard about those t-shirts that allow you to strum rudimentary chords when you pass your hand across the front. This is just the next logical step in wearable instruments.

The iHorn ($540)

Inspired by the acoustic principles used in old-school gramophone horns, these things may require rearranging the furniture, but if these things are even on your radar, chances are you've already got a place that's way too big already.

The Speaker Vest ($850)

If you thought the guy on the bus listening to music at high volume through leaky headphones was annoying, just wait until you meet up with someone using one of these. The good news is that the low frequencies coming from the subwoofer will probably stop his heart.

Sex Pistols' God Save the Queen 7-inch on A&M ($16,200)

A mint copy of one of the precious few copies rescued from the A&M warehouse after the band was dropped after just five days recently went up for sale through the collectors' site, iNuke ($30,000)

If the iHorn is too weenie for you, then you need to step up to this 700-pound, 10,000-watt iPhone/iPod speaker dock. No, none of the numbers in the preceding is a typo.

A Street-Legal Race Car Inspired by a Bjork Video ($125,000)

Lest you think that Bjork can't live down that swan dress, take a look at the BAC Mono, a single-seat street-legal track. This thing wouldn't exist had its designers not been inspired by the video for Bjork's All Is Full of Love.

And although all 50 copies for 2011 have been sold out, the manufacture can promise delivery for 2013. Perhaps you should put that Christmas money aside after all.

Adam Lambert finds himself involved in a gay bar brawl in Helsinki

THE WORD

DOROTHY ROBINSON
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Well, this is awesome: Former American Idol star Adam Lambert was arrested and briefly jailed in Finland after reportedly getting into a gay bar brawl with his boyfriend, Finnish Big Brother star Sauli Koskinen, according to the Hollywood Reporter. Lambert is in Helsinki to spend Christmas with Koskinen's family, and the couple was out drinking with Finnish beauty queen and ex-Miss Helsinki Sofia Ruusila when an argument between the two men turned violent, causing them to be kicked out of the bar.

Their fight continued in the street, where Lambert reportedly hit Ruusila by mistake, she told a Finnish entertainment channel. Lambert and Koskinen were arrested and questioned for several hours before being released Thursday afternoon.

Is Jamie Bell looking for a ring?

▶ Jamie Bell and Rachel Wood

The rekindled romance must be working, because Jamie Bell and Evan Rachel Wood are reportedly thinking about marriage.

"They have been shopping for rings for at least a month," a source tells Us Weekly.

And the two certainly aren't afraid of commitment, as they reportedly got matching tattoos during their initial courtship in 2006.

"Evan and Jamie were really young and just getting going in their careers when they first met and they just weren't ready," another source tells Radar Online.

"Now that they are older and both excelling in their professional lives, I think they feel ready to take their relationship to the next level."

As sure as the Grinch stole Christmas, it's a given that we'll all receive a bottle of wine over the holiday season.

In my house, I pick the wines that go with Xmas dinner so anything that shows up at the door goes into the wine rack for future enjoyment.

Of course, considering how my family can plow through my wine selection, it would be nice if more of the freebies came with a roast turkey match in mind.

For reds, bring a plump New World pinot noir from California or Canada, a chocolaty old vines zinfandel (also from Cali.) or, for a slightly unconventional Old World partner, a Crianza or Reserva from Spain's Rioja region.

On the white side, think a not so oaky chardonnay from Australia or Chile, a German riesling or a rich, multi-blend like the ripe, refreshing cornucopia of grape flavours (five in all) that is California's Caymus 2009 Conundrum ($23.95 - $29.99). Happy holidays!

Tenderloin Tip

In order for this to be the best tasting Beef Wellington, the cut of meat is very important.

When you head to your local butcher or meat counter, be sure to specify that you want a centre-cut tenderloin.

This will ensure that you don't get a roast that contains several pieces of tenderloin pressed together.

- 1 pkg (284 g/10 oz) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and squeezed dry
- 2 egg whites, beaten
- 400 ml (1 2/3 cups) Bisquick Heart Smart Pancake and Baking Mix
- 5 chunks dried porcini mushrooms
- 22 ml (3/4 oz) beef jerky, finely shredded
- 125 ml (1/2 cup) Madeira
- 22 ml (1 1/2 tbsp) arrowroot powder
- 10 ml (2 tsp) soy sauce

Preparation:

1. Heat oven to 190 C (375 F). Line baking sheet with parchment paper. Season beef with salt, pepper.
2. In sauté pan over medium-high, heat oil. When just smoking, add beef. Brown all sides, 1 to 2 minutes per side. Once browned, remove and place on a rack to rest.
3. Add garlic to pan and cook until browned, 20 seconds. Add sliced mushrooms and onion. Cook until soft and all liquid has evaporated, 10 mins. Season with salt and pepper and add 10 ml (2 tsp) of the thyme.
4. Set aside 50 ml (1/4 cup) of mushroom-onion mix. Transfer rest to food processor and pulse to roughly chop. Transfer to bowl and refrigerate 5 mins. Once slightly cooled, add spinach and egg whites and mix well.
5. In bowl, stir pancake mix with about 75 ml (1/3 cup) water to moisten and make dough that holds but is not sticky. On lightly floured surface, roll dough to a thin rectangle 5 cm (2 inches) longer than the beef roast. Place beef on dough. Spoon spinach and mushroom mix on top and sides of beef and pat down tightly. Fold dough up and over top of beef and spinach and crimp seams together.
6. Place meat, seam side down, on baking sheet. Cut slits in top. Bake 40 mins. or until centre registers 60 C (140 F). Remove, cover with foil and let rest 10 mins.
7. Place 2 porcini chunks in a spice grinder and grind to powder. Place mushroom powder, remaining whole porcini chunks and shredded jerky in a microwave-safe bowl with 500 ml (2 cups) water. Microwave until water is simmering. Let sit for 5 minutes and repeat.
8. Pour Madeira into small saucepan over medium heat; boil 5 mins. or until reduced by half. Pour dried mushroom and beef broth through mesh strainer into Madeira while pushing on jerky and mushrooms to extract liquid. Remove pieces of porcini, roughly chop; set aside. Discard jerky. Bring broth-Madeira mix to boil.
9. In bowl, combine arrowroot and 60 ml (4 tbsp) cold water. Mix and add to simmering sauce. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Add soy sauce, remaining thyme, reserved porcini and mushroom-onion mix. Season with salt, pepper. Slice roast into 8 slices and serve with sauce.

Maialino Enoteca Italiana

We know, we know. Another Italian restaurant in Toronto...? But Maialino Enoteca Italiana (say that three times fast) is Sicilian with a modern twist. The food is divine and chef's creations go above and beyond the standard fare and classic dishes. Try their Pane Cá Meusa and Coniglio in Agrodolce. The space is replete with rustic woods and a modern typographic wall, and the restaurant brings some much needed haute cuisine to the very west Queen West scene. 1688 Queen St. W.

2

Banh Mi Boys

Street food — or rather food trucks — were a massive rage in Toronto this year. So it comes as no surprise that someone would take the street food to the restaurants. Such is the case with the recently opened Banh Mi Boys at 392 Queen St. W. The Vietnamese favourite is now available for the obsessive masses, and situated nicely in the DT core.

Where to dine on Christmas Day

So, it goes without saying that although 'tis the season to be with family and friends, a slew of the city's citizens won't be looking to feast on turkey and trimmings come Christmas day. For those of you out there not looking to partake in yuletidings, or those who just have an aversion to cooking a massive feast, check out some our picks like, Yorkville classic 7 West Café or my favourite pea soup in the city at United Dairy. Leafs preview

Toronto at N.Y. Islanders
7 p.m., Friday
TV: TSN

The Maple Leafs (17-13-4) and New York (11-15-6) both play their second game in two nights. Toronto beat Buffalo 3-2 at home Thursday, while the Islanders fell 4-2 to the rival New York Rangers. Before last night, the Islanders had won their last two games after going winless in four. New York starting goaltender Al Montoya suffered a concussion late in the second period of Tuesday's 3-2 shootout win over Winnipeg. Evgeni Nabokov was solid in replacement, making 19 saves, and will likely start Friday with Rick DiPietro (groin) out indefinitely.

Few expect much from the Raptors

Most experts peg Toronto to finish at or near the bottom of the NBA

The predictions are in and they're not pretty.

The NBC Sports website predicts the Toronto Raptors will finish in last place this season with just 18 wins. The CBS Sports website has Toronto in the basement in its NBA power rankings. SI.com was slightly more kind, ranking the Raptors 29th in the 30-team league.

Drop five dollars in Las Vegas on the Raptors to win the championship and you'll cash out for a cool grand if they actually did it.

To say expectations are low for Canada's only NBA team would be a grand understatement. This is a club that plans to give its young players as many minutes as possible with its eye firmly locked on the future.

New head coach Dwane Casey will have his work cut out for him in what has already been declared a rebuilding campaign — or as he and general manager Bryan Colangelo like to call it, a "building" season.

In previous years, stars like Damon Stoudemire, Tracy McGrady, Vince Carter and Chris Bosh were the feature players on the club. This season, there is no easy choice as the face of the franchise.

The roster is a collection of youngsters with potential and some decent veterans who will be counted on to provide guidance on court and in the locker-room. A team-first mentality is in place with a focus on strengthening the club's foundation.

"It's a group effort, it's not a one-guy show," forward James Johnson said in a recent interview.

Expect youngsters like DeMar DeRozan, Amir Johnson and Ed Davis to see plenty of minutes and crunch-time action as they soak up as much experience as possible. They're considered key building blocks for the Raptors, who are coming off a weak 22-60 season.

Andrea Bargnani provided some offensive spark last season with a career-high average of 21.4 points per game. However, his blocks (46) were down significantly and he had 150 fewer rebounds than the previous year.

The pressure will be on the No. 1 pick from the 2006 draft to deliver under Casey's defence-first philosophy. Toronto native Jamaal Magloire may not see a ton of minutes but he'll give the Raptors some much-needed toughness under the glass.

Young players like forward James Johnson and guard Jerryd Bayless haven't had starter's minutes for a full season. They could blossom if given the opportunity.

The 66-game schedule may actually help the Raptors, who have plenty of young legs to handle the many back-to-back games throughout the compressed season. Casey will likely experiment with different lineups over the first few weeks as he gets a feel for the players. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Schedule quirks

The NBA sought competitive balance. What it got was schedule imbalance.

- One of the many consequences of the lockout was the tradition that every team plays in every NBA city at least once per season. That's not the case this year.
- While teams will visit every other team in their own conference, they will only make trips to play nine clubs from the other side of the league instead of the usual 15. It's one of many quirks of a 66-game schedule.
- That means Carmelo Anthony's return to Denver is delayed for another year, LeBron James and Dwyane Wade won't be visiting Sacramento anytime soon and fans in Chicago will only be seeing Kobe Bryant on television this season.

World junior gold 'earned, not given'

Canada is again a contender for gold at the world junior hockey championship, but the host country will have to fight off stiff challenges from the United States, Russia and Sweden.

Canada opens the 2012 world junior tournament Sunday in Edmonton against Finland, a dark horse in the race for gold.

Canadian teams have reached the final of this tournament every year for the last decade and won half of them. Fair or not, Canadians have come to depend on seeing their country in the championship game.

So the biggest challenge Canada's 2012 edition faces is avoiding a sense of entitlement in this tournament.

On the back of the players' T-shirts during selection camp in Calgary earlier this month was the slogan "earned, not given."

"There's no rule that we deserve gold every year," Canadian head coach Don Hay said. "Other countries want it too and there's other countries that believe they play the right way."

After a run of five straight gold, Canada lost in overtime to the U.S. in the 2010 final in Saskatoon and spectacularly collapsed in the 2011 final in Buffalo, N.Y., when Russia scored five unanswered goals in the third period to win 5-3.

But to call Canada's campaign this year "redemption" is unfair because 18 of the 22 players on this year's team did not play in Buffalo. That label could perhaps be applied to goaltender Mark Visentin, who was in net against Russia. THE CANADIAN PRESS

3 All-star pitcher Gio Gonzalez said Thursday the Washington Nationals have agreed to acquire him in a trade from the Oakland Athletics, and the deal is nearly finished. Oakland reportedly will receive four players in the deal, including three top prospects.

Kadri heroic in return

Highly-touted 21-year-old nets game-winner for Leafs a day after being recalled from Marlies Toronto's Reimer does heavy lifting at other end

Nazem Kadri's latest audition with the Toronto Maple Leafs is off to a roaring start.

The winger snapped the winning goal past Ryan Miller's glove in the third period as the Maple Leafs beat the Buffalo Sabres 3-2 on Thursday night.

It came following a 22-game stint in the American Hockey League for Kadri. The former first round pick looked poised with the puck all night long and scored the winner at 5:52 of the third period after taking a nice drop pass from Clarke MacArthur.

David Steckel and Phil Kessel also had goals while James Reimer made 40 saves for the Maple Leafs (17-13-4), who moved up to sixth spot in the tight Eastern Conference standings.

Jason Pominville and Derek Roy replied for Buffalo (16-15-3).

The first period belonged to Miller.

With the Leafs off to a fast start, Miller turned away Kessel at the side of the goal before getting his shoulder on a Matt Frattin one-timer. Toronto was unable to solve him with any of its 12 first-period shots.

3rd

Nazem Kadri's winning goal was an important one for a Leafs team that has been sliding of late. They won for just the third time in 10 games and gained valuable points on a division rival.

The momentum swung early in the second period as Toronto took four straight penalties, including a delay of game call to Tyler Bozak that left them two men short for 67 seconds. Reimer stood tall through a barrage of shots, only allowing a goal to Pominville at 11:49 when the Sabres captain saw his shot deflect in off Leafs defenceman Luke Schenn.

Toronto responded with a goal from their little-used fourth line. Playing just their second shift of the period, Steckel dribbled a shot past Miller from the top of the crease at 15:52.

That brought the sellout crowd to life, with fans derisively chanting "Millller! Millller!" when Kessel made it 2-1 Leafs just over a minute later. The flashy winger scored his 20th of the season after taking a nice pass from linemate Joffrey Lupul.

The lead was short-lived as Roy tied it early in the third period. He grabbed the puck on a turnover at the Leafs blue-line and beat Reimer to the glove side at 1:29 to make it 2-2.

Bills in talks to add more Toronto games

Owner Wilson says Rogers Communications Inc. would like to reduce ticket prices after next year's trips to T.O.

The Buffalo Bills have held talks to continue playing annual games in Toronto. And quarterback Ryan Fitzpatrick isn't going anywhere, but needs more talent around him.

Those were among the messages Bills owner Ralph Wilson delivered during an interview with The Associated Press on Thursday.

Speaking from his home in suburban Detroit, Wilson said the Bills and Rogers Communications Inc. have held talks to renew the team's series north of the border, and is optimistic an extension will be reached before the current five-year deal expires after next season.

"Oh yeah, we want to renew it. We were talking to them recently, and they want to renew it," Wilson said. "I think that Buffalo can have a very successful franchise embracing Rochester, Buffalo and Toronto as we move forward."

Without going into specifics on the terms of a potential new deal, Wilson said one of Rogers' key conditions is lowering ticket prices. He said the communications giant acknowledged ticket prices had been too high, averaging around $180 US per seat.

The ticket prices led to series organizers having difficulty selling out games at the 54,000-seat Rogers Centre.

Reducing ticket revenue also has the potential of lowering the price tag of a new deal after Rogers paid $78 million to have the Bills play eight games, including five annual regular-season games.

A Rogers spokeswoman said the company had nothing to announce at this time. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Me (D.B. my wish)
I bet a lot of us hoped to received a similar message. Apologies are always welcome no matter what, and it's never too late for it. A simple lie might seem innocent at first, but when discovered can hurt a lot, way too much. So many things I should have said, so many questions that haven't been answered and it's probably why I can hardly move on. Merry Christmas xoxoxo

LOOK AGAIN SPOT THE 10 DIFFERENCES IN THESE TWO IMAGES.

Montreal, Quebec – One fun thing leads to another as the shockingly powerful, ridiculously fuel-efficient 2012 Chevrolet Sonic hatch and sedan hit the downtown streets. As for sibling rivalry? Let's just say it's a good thing they're both confident in the looks department.

1. Removed street sign above the 2012 Chevrolet Sonic 5-door. 2. Removed walkway stripe below the 2012 Chevrolet Sonic 5-door. 3. Changed colour of building sign to yellow. 4. Added stripe to sweater. 5. Added a sign onto the patio wall. 6. Switched the direction of the patio lamp above the 2012 Chevrolet Sonic sedan. 7. Removed building décor from right side of corner building. 8. Removed a green flag from the hanging line. 9. Added building décor to left side of corner building. 10.
